THE WORLD OVER

THE FIVE-CENT BONUS

What do the farmers think of the five-cent bonus now? On Saturday wheat took a drop of over four cents, almost the amount of the bonus, and farmers hauling their wheat now will not receive the price, plus the bonus, that they figured on. Instead, the grain buyer will benefit by this amount; and why? Simply because the Federal government has announced that the bonus will terminate on June 15th, and the farmers of the west are almost breaking their necks to get all their surplus wheat hauled before that date. As a result the country elevators are being flooded with the surplus wheat and markets have gone lower, more wheat being bought than sold. As soon as the bonus is off, there will be a less amount of wheat marketed and wheat will be almost sure to rise on the open market. The farmer in the meantime will probably more than lose the five-cent bonus by the falling off of price and the grain trader will make that amount.

This is only another instance where Canada's government is bleeding the poor to make the rich. No doubt this four-cent drop was unforeseen, but it (the bushel basis bonus) has turned out to be another of the blunders of parliament and it will be something for a future government to avoid.

This is another instance where the bonus on wheat produced is shown to be unfair. And it is more reason for the government, should it favor the bonus scheme, to apply it to the acreage seeded, regardless of production. Wheat in Western Canada as a money standard would be a wonderful thing. Wheat in store in the country elevators at the present time is just the opposite when you are trying to buy the most possible for a bushel of wheat.

ULSTER TO ABANDON LOCAL PARLIAMENT

If President de Valera's oath bill passes the Irish senate Ulster is likely to abandon the Northern Ireland government and return to direct government by Britain, according to Old country reports. It is understood that the Ulster administration feels the measure to abolish the oath of allegiance to the British Crown is a violation of the Anglo-Irish treaty, and that if it were passed Ulster would be free to abandon its present system of local government. Such a step would shatter de Valera's dream of a United Ireland.

ESKIMOS BECOMING CIVILIZED

There are approximately 7,000 Eskimos in Arctic and sub-Arctic Canada including the Hudson Bay area. They are progressive and some even have radio receiving sets and sewing machines in their igloos. Many eskimos own their own schooners with auxiliary engines and at Aklavik near the mouth of the Mackenzie River, as many as twenty-five of these schooners will be anchored at one time in summer.

A. F. McKIBBIN HEADS PHARMACEUTICAL ASSOCIATION 1932

Naming A. F. McKibbin of Carbon, as new president and selecting Calgary for their 1933 convention, delegates to the annual meeting of the Alberta Pharmaceutical Association advanced their business programme at sessions held in Edmonton on Monday. Selecting of two Alberta members of the Canadian Pharmaceutical Council resulted in Mr. Chambers of Didsbury and Mr. McKibbin of Carbon, being chosen.

Baseball and Softball Games Won by Carbon

Two interesting ball games were played in Carbon over the week end, both games being won by the Carbon teams, who defeated the Grand Forks aggregation in baseball, 13-12, and in Softball, 22-11.

The first game played was the baseball and the following was the line-up:

Grand Forks — Cave c, Garrett D, Braden 1b, Paul Fuller 2b, Berdine ss, Watson 3b, Hovick rf, F. Fuller cf, N. Fuller lf.

Carbon — Trepanier c, B. Ramsay D, H. Edwards 1b, Bernard 2b, MacDonald ss, Kapaniuk 3b, P. Dodyk rf, J. Spence cf, W. Poxon lf.

Scores by innings—
G. F. . . . 0,0,0,1,0,0,3,6,2,0—12
Carbon 3,0,2,0,2,0,3,1,1,1—13

A ten innings game was necessary to play off the tie.

W. Reid and A. Poxon acted as referees.

Following the baseball, the Grand Forks team played the Carbon softballers, and again suffered defeat at the hands of the locals, this time by a score of 22-11. Grand Forks had practically the same line-up, although the Carbon team was somewhat different. Turcotte, A. Poxon, W. Reid, M. Skerry, G. Murray, Berdine and others taking their turn with the Carbonites.

Softball score by innings—
G. F. . . . 0,0,0,0,0,0,0,0,0—11
Carbon 5,9,1,2,1,0,2,0,2—22

FREAK CALF BORN

Robert Gibson reported to The Chronicle the first of the week that one of his cows had given birth to a fine heifer calf, of a freakish nature. The calf is sound in limb and health, but has no tail. As a result in later life this beast, which promises to be a big, healthy animal, like its mother, will miss its bushy tail to show away the flies, and Bob will probably have to get his brother to invent some sort of artificial tail for the tail-less strain of cattle.

U.F.A. District Ass'n Meeting

The Huxley to Grainger meeting last Wednesday was an interesting and well attended gathering. Mr. Grisdale was to have been there, but attempting to drive across country, got stuck and failed to make the grade. Mr. Claypool was there and filled in the blank with a most interesting talk on the Turner Valley situation and the farmers' oil supply. He was chairman of the agricultural committee of the House, which recently went into the whole vexed question and was very familiar with all aspects of the controversy.

He said farmers generally were inclined to believe any or all of the conflicting reports, many of which were mere propaganda. The charges that the Provincial Government was under the thumb of the big companies or had been "fixed" by them, and such tales, need not be paid any attention to. If the Government's proposals were carried out the farmer would be fully protected as to getting his oil supplies, and also that there would be genuine prospects of selling the waste gas to other cities once proper conservation was established.

President Gardiner was selected by the meeting as their choice to represent the U.F.A. at the coming economic conference at Ottawa.

Proposal to reduce the U.F.W.A. annual fee from 25c to 15c was approved.

From Lumni came a resolution protesting against the new school voting regulation whereby a non-property holder was entitled to vote on school matters other than a money by-law. This protest was approved by the meeting.

The delegates were royally treated by the Carbon folk, which was highly appreciated.

The next meeting will be on the third Wednesday in July, at Ghost Pine.

From the Canadian National comes the report that a salmon cannery of good capacity, but very compact proportions, has just been completed at Vancouver by the London Fish Company Limited. The new plant, described as the smallest cannery in the British Empire, has a capacity of from 300 to 400 cases daily but occupies only a space 40 feet by 40 feet. Located at Fisherman's Wharf on Burrard Inlet, the cannery will turn out a product of fine grade, and the operators, it is stated, expect to work at capacity during the entire salmon canning season.

SPORTS DAY IS PLANNED

A movement is on foot at the present time to put on a Field and Sports Day in Carbon at the end of June, when all schools in the towns and surrounding districts will be asked to participate. It is proposed to have this event commence in the morning when a regular field day program will be carried out, and all events will be open to anyone in each class. Following the field program a regular picnic is planned and visitors will be able to enjoy the facilities of the Carbon park.

It is proposed to run in conjunction with this entertainment a regular town sports and baseball and softball tournaments are planned for the afternoon. Other novel attractions such as a pets parade, bare back horse race, etc. are being suggested and will probably be carried out, should the sports day materialize.

Anyone interested in helping along this field and sports day are asked to get in touch with Mr. J.M. Macdonald at the Carbon Hotel.

It is expected that a meeting of all school teachers will be held in Carbon on Saturday to decide, and if a field day is considered possible, to make all necessary arrangements. Definite announcement regarding the date and program of the sports day should be able to be given next week.

It is to be hoped that the citizens of Carbon and surrounding district will give this proposed sports day every consideration and support in order to make the event a reality and a success.

TENNIS NOTES

The Carbon Lawn Tennis Club held a Men's Singles handicap this week, the final of which was played on June 5th, and was won by W. Poxon Jr. The handicapping was done by the Secretary, W.A. Braisher, and resulted in some close games.

A Message From The Prince

In January of this year, the Prince of Wales addressed a message to the youth of Great Britain at a large meeting held in the Royal Albert Hall, London, England. That message is just as applicable to the youth of Canada as it is to the youth of the Old Land, and we, therefore, reproduce the speech, in part, as follows:

Youth cannot long remain a spectator of life, it will only be a short time before the work of the world will be placed on your shoulders to carry. Many tasks wait for your help: knowledge to be discovered, open spaces to be peopled, natural resources to be developed, sickness to be conquered, and wrongs to be righted. With these high quests before you, you will realize that the mere acquisition of material things is not in itself the fulfilment of an individual or a national purpose, and is as little, compared with the satisfaction derived from your own effort, especially when that effort advances human welfare and happiness.

I want you to understand that we are not just facing a few months of "grim and bear it," but that we must get into training for a long period of work—hard work and effort, sustained despite possible discouragements. You must be prepared, as others have been before, to enlist "for the duration," without asking how much may in the long run be required of you.

You cannot hope to influence directly the trend of international affairs, but close at hand is a domestic problem, vast and baffling if looked at in the mass, though easier to help when broken up into individual pieces. It is made up of men and women, boys and girls. I am, as you will have guessed, thinking of unemployment. I am thinking now neither in terms of economics nor of politics but of each member of the unemployed population as a single, separate personality, beset by depression, labouring under a sense of frustration and futility—a blank wall in front of him which he can neither climb over nor scramble round. My appeal here is not to statesmen, nor even to philanthropists, but to all those who are in work to play the part of neighbour and friend to the man out of work. That is the open road of duty and a short cut to happiness all round. There is no central machinery here in London that can provide a substitute for the good neighbour.

The enemy today is depression and apathy. Let us attack them with two of our old-fashioned characteristics—good sense and good humour. I believe there are groups of the unemployed here and there, dead sick of prolonged idleness, who are themselves feeling out toward ways of giving their unhired labour in co-operative effort for the help of others in need. It is up to us to back such attempts with every possible support. Get together wherever this burden lies heaviest, face up to the most urgent local need, and see if the community on the spot cannot make its own self-directed contribution toward this vast problem. So far as is humanly possible let us break it up into little pieces and refuse to be browbeaten into paralysis by its size. I am talking, I repeat, neither on the economic nor on the political plane, but on the humane plane of simple friendship in those places where the clouds are darkest, where the pits are closed or the furnaces damped down. What matter if some trifling blunder is committed here or some project fails there. The very attempt of the community to achieve some social betterment for the sake of the workless in their midst will lift the general level of hope and make easier every national solution by statesmen and economist.

The world passed into a new age with the end of the Great War. Never was a new age born in greater agony, nor in a more difficult environment for healthy and normal growth. What we make of it as a democracy is of vital concern not only to ourselves but to the whole world.

The message that I have tried to give you is a twofold one:—First, for a fresh response to national service, for a greater spirit of unselfish and adventurous helpfulness in the midst of problems which our ablest men find difficult to unravel.

The second point is that the opportunity for service is at our door—in our own village, in our own town.

Canadian Tobacco Exports

Dominion Largest Exporter In Empire Of Tobacco To Great Britain

Canada in the first four months of 1932 has definitely established herself as the largest exporter among countries of the Empire of unmanufactured tobacco to Great Britain.

From January to April, a report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics shows, Canada exported 6,863,315 pounds of tobacco compared with 2,809,766 pounds for the same period of 1930. The total imports into Great Britain aggregated 48,236,021 pounds for the four months, with British Empire countries supplying 10,075,085 pounds.

Canadian Bacon For Britain

Mother Country Buys More Bacon From Canada Than From U.S.

Great Britain is at present buying more bacon from Canada than from the United States. A report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics shows that imports of bacon into Great Britain from Canada, not including hams, in the first four months of this year totalled 5,727,500 pounds. In 1930 the imports were 3,713,700 pounds, but they dropped to 469,500 pounds in the same period of 1931.

In the first four months of 1930, British imports from the United States amounted to 25,811,000 pounds. This dropped in the same period of 1931 to 8,925,900 pounds, and in 1932 to 2,569,700.

Britain proposes to print its postage stamps in a government plant, the work now being done by private firms under contract.

Will Use Bay Route

Famous French Grain Firm Will Make Big Shipment Of Wheat

Dreyfus, famous French grain firm, has purchased a quarter of a million bushels of wheat in western Canada, that will be shipped this season over the Hudson Bay route to France, it was definitely learned from official sources. Through a New York agency the French firm has completed the purchase of the grain and gave the first sign of completion between important grain firms over the use of the new Bay route in shipping grain to European ports. Already nearly two million bushels have been shipped to Churchill for the Continental Grain Company. This group will export at least one million bushels this summer.

L. B. Cusick, Canadian president of the Continental Grain Company, is making a strong effort to obtain cargoes for the four or five boats his company will bring into Churchill this summer for the shipment of their grain.

"If a reasonable amount of incoming cargo can be obtained and the insurance rates lowered slightly, the Hudson Bay route is a cinch," he declared in an interview.

"We firmly believe the insurance rates will be cut this summer, and we expect the people of western Canada to support their new seaport to the extent of obtaining incoming cargoes," he said.

Trains On Rubber Tires

Forerunner Of A New Era In Rail Comfort

The pneumatic-tired railroad coach which made a trial trip from Cleveland to Akron and return this week may easily prove a forerunner of a new era in rail comfort. Trunk lines are speeding up their schedules. Palace car builders are getting away from stereotyped interiors. The pounding of steel wheels on steel rails may ultimately be outlawed as needless.

Railroads in general have been slow to copy devices which give their competitors advantages in the race for business. Be the reasons what they may—and some of them are obvious enough—rail lines have suffered by the motor industry's avid adoption and improvement of such things as rubber tires, lighter engines, less rigid schedules, better coach construction and other factors. A liberal public attitude toward the use of highways is part of the story.

Tires of rubber, and particularly air-inflated tires, have played a large part in a transportation evolution. If railroads can make use of them, as recent experimentation indicates they hope to, some check may be put on the trek of passengers from rail to highways.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Possibility Of Oil

In Northern Alberta

Geologists Believe Ancient Rock Formations Are An Indication

Rock formations in the northern section of Alberta indicate possibilities of oil in commercial quantities. This opinion was expressed at Ottawa before the Royal Society of Canada when a number of geologists described the districts of Mountain Park, Peace River, Wainwright and Viking as containing marine sediments. This would indicate, they said, the district once formed a part of the vast ocean that covered what now forms the three prairie provinces. The rocky formations are about 150,000,000 years old.

Contract Bridge

By Hamlin B. Hatch, Cavendish Club, Toronto

Systems In Contract

The average contract bridge player, at the present time is agog over the controversy raging around the different systems of playing. There are four principal systems now being exploited by their different sponsors. In order of importance they rank as follows:—

1st. The Approach-Forcing System (Sponsored by Culbertson).

2nd. The Official System (Sponsored by Lenz et Al.).

3rd. The One Over One (Sponsored by Geo. Reith and The Knickerbocker Whist Club).

4th. The Vanderbilt Club (Sponsored by Harold Vanderbilt).

A system in Contract may be defined as an attempt to put into a form easy to learn, the methods the good card player have always used. This being so, it is certain that, as most card players use the same methods with slight variations, any system can differ from any other system only slightly. And this is so. The variations in all four systems are slight and the good contract player is, as a rule, familiar with all the systems, and can, if asked to do so, play any system his partner desires to play.

The Approach-Forcing System

The salient points of the Approach-Forcing System are as follows:—

1st. The opening bid of one which must have a minimum of 2½ honor tricks and four playing tricks, and may have a maximum of six honor tricks and seven or eight playing tricks.

2nd. The weak no trump takeout by the partner of the original bidder. This is made on a maximum of one and one-half honor tricks and a minimum of one honor trick, or in exceptional cases of less than one honor trick. The takeout denies normal support in suit originally bid and practically warns partner that for that particular deal, the partnership must be satisfied with partial score. Further it discloses the fact that, as a rule, the responding hand is balanced i.e., contains no void suit or singleton.

3rd. The Jump-Shift Response. This is a jump bid in a suit other than the suit originally bid and is a demand bid requiring the partnership to keep the bidding open until a game contract is arrived at. It is made by the responding hand usually on a minimum of two and one-half honor tricks, or sometimes less when the hand distribution is favorable.

4th. The Original Two Bid. Based on five and one-half honor tricks as a minimum and demands that bidding be kept open by partnership until game contract is arrived at. The tendency lately, by users of this system is to limit the two bid to hands which will make game with even less than one honor trick in partner's hand.

5th. The Jump Overcall. A jump bid made by opponents of original bidder and is a strong invitation to partner of the overcaller to keep the bidding open provided partner has the equivalent of one honor trick. If however the overcaller's partner has less than one honor trick he may pass.

6th. The Informative Double. A bid made as an overcall and demands a response from partner of doubler provided there is no intervening bid. It is usually made with strength in the major suits and is a fighting not a defensive bid. With the balance of strength in the hand of the doubler's partner, game is likely in the hand.

7th. The Overcall by the opponents of the suit bid originally by two of the same suit. If the opening bid is one heart and the opponents overcall with two hearts, such an overcall means control of the heart suit i.e. either a void in hearts, the singleton ace, the ace small, or the ace king or ace queen. This bid is the most powerful bid in the approach forcing system, is used definitely as a slam signal and practically guarantees game in any four card suit that the partner of the overcaller has.

The synopsis given above contains practically all the salient features of the Approach-Forcing System. Generally it may be said that in this system whenever there is a four card biddable suit in the hand, this suit is bid in preference to no trump. A biddable four card suit may be defined as one which contains two high honors, one of which must be the ace or king, and the other queen or jack. The no trump opening bid is made only when the hand contains two and one-half honor tricks, no four or five card biddable suit, and has a balanced pattern.

In the next article the main features of the other systems will be outlined.

DEFINITE HELP FOR DWELLERS IN APARTMENTS

Odorless way found to cook fish, cauliflower and cabbage

CANAPAR IS A PRODUCT OF HAMILTON FIRM

Lives there a woman, in an apartment, duplex or home, who has not at some time or other reluctantly foregone fish, cabbage, and cauliflower because of the odors they give off when being cooked? Or who has not suffered from other people close by who cooked these foods regardless?

Canapar entirely does away with this annoyance. More than that, it actually improves flavor and food value. Cooking in Canapar parallels the famous French method of simmering and confining food and its flavours to the closed casserole.

Canapar comes in large sheets, in a handy-size package. When boiling vegetables you simply wet the sheet of Canapar and make a bag similar to a pudding bag. If you are steaming them you line your steamer with Canapar, arrange food and seasoning, and fold back corners of the Canapar to prevent steam from dripping back.

Boiled or steamed fish is particularly delicious done this way. No fishy odor in the kitchen, no gummy kettle to clean. When roasting meat, line the pan with Canapar. It prevents the fats and juices from burning, and eliminates scouring of the pan afterwards.

Canapar saves fuel. You can cook three vegetables simultaneously in the same saucepan with it, without intermingling of flavors. And it is very economical. Just rinse the sheet after using it, hang it on the towel rack to dry. Use it over and over again.

Lots of women use Canapar for a dish cloth—it is so silky and satisfactory and does not spread lint. This is a particularly good use if you happen to pierce the sheet of Canapar while testing the food during the cooking of it. Canapar is made by the makers of PARA-SANI the famous heavy waxed paper in the Green box.

Italian Air Fleet Coming

Twenty Sea Planes Plan Trip To Chicago Next Year

A second Italian air fleet will fly the Atlantic next year, with the double purpose of celebrating the tenth year of Fascism and also the World's Fair in Chicago.

A fleet of 20 twin-motored seaplanes, under command of General Italo Balbo, the Air Minister, the same man who commanded the first armada to South America a year ago, will undertake the flight. The ultimate objective will be Chicago.

The route probably will be via Ireland, Iceland, Greenland, Labrador and Canadian points.

Scientists At Ottawa Suggest That There Be Two Major Divisions Of Geological Time

Standard time consisting of eons, eras, suberas and periods is the aim of the national committee on stratigraphical nomenclature, Dr. F. J. Alecock, of the geological survey of Canada, chairman, told Section 4 of the Royal Society of Canada meeting at Ottawa.

It is the opinion of the committee that geological time previous to the development of abundant life on the earth's surface is at least as great as geological time from that development until the present moment. The suggestion is that, therefore, there should be two major divisions, and that these be known as "eons."

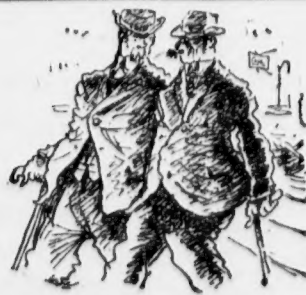

Seven hundred million years was the estimate of some members of the section of the length of the latter eon, and they thought the former to be much longer. Granite rocks in Manitoba, have been stated to have an age of 2,000,000,000 years.

At the same session a paper by Prof. J. S. Delury, of the University of Manitoba, speculated on the earth's development and composition. The belief expressed was that the centre of the earth consists of heavy, dense metallic substances; that its crust consisted of lighter rocks and that in between lies the great zone of flowage and adjustments. The earth, Prof. Delury stated, is losing heat in exceptionally large amounts from certain more or less restricted belts of the earth's surface. Once, millions of years ago, the escape of heat in this way occurred in Canada; now it is chiefly in the vicinity of the Hawaiian Islands in the Pacific Ocean. Supporting his thesis, Prof. Delury reported that the temperature rises one degree every 400 feet down in the Frodo mine of Northern Ontario. In Hawaii the temperature rises one degree in every 50 feet.

How aerial photography has achieved results for geologists which on foot they would have been years in securing was shown by D. A. Nichols of the geological survey, who exhibited an unusual series of photographs taken by the Royal Canadian Air Force. In these pictures, taken chiefly in the Athabasca, Great Bear and Great Slave Lake and Arctic areas of Canada, land forms such as faults, dykes, folds, fjords, eskers and beaches (formed years ago) were clearly defined and some were shown to extend for many miles. Some of these were recognized from descriptions given by members of the geological survey as many as 40 years ago.

Further light, of value to miners and prospectors, of British Columbia, was thrown on the body of granite rocks known as the Coast Batholith, which extends 1,200 miles from a point near the international boundary northward and westward into Alaska. The survey work of the geological survey, which began in this area as far back as 1851, has provided additional information year by year. Once it was thought the possibilities of finding valuable deposits were as good in one part of the area as another. The geological survey is indicating where the prospects are good and where they are not. Detailed studies, for instance, have shown that mineral deposits occur associated with certain types of rock and the mapping of these areas provides valuable guides.

Authors of papers given were Dr. Forrest Kerr, of the geological survey; Dr. S. J. Schofield, of the University of British Columbia, and Dr. H. C. Gunning, also of the geological survey.

Lessons By Radio

Use Of Broadcasting To Further Education In The West

The use of radio broadcasting to extend the benefits of university training was urged upon the 15th national conference of Canadian universities at Ottawa by Professor E. A. Corbett, director of extra-mural relations at the University of Alberta, and conductor of the university's radio station, CKUA. This university has been a pioneer in the use of the radio for educational purposes in Canada and has developed a considerable volume of educational broadcasting which covers practically the whole province.

Professor Corbett recently appeared before the parliamentary committee on radio broadcasting with a brief prepared in the interest of educational broadcasting and had made a study of this work in those sections of the United States in which this work has been carried on to a considerable extent.

Some of the work of Canadian universities, aimed at making Canada a truly bilingual country, was described.

The subject of the first session was "Modern Language Teaching," and dealt almost entirely with the teaching of French in English universities, and the teaching of English in French speaking universities.

Abbe Alexander Vachon, Laval University, observed that practically every Quebec member of the House of Commons could express himself adequately in the English language, and that many could speak with equal facility in either language. At Laval an attempt was made to give every graduate a complete mastery of the English language, even though he might enter the college with no English.

Right Of Free Speech Not Curtailed In Hyde Park

While the great American people—followed by the great Canadian people in their turn—are falling over themselves to put down the right of free speech when it is even faintly suspected that there may be a tinge of red in it, it is refreshing to read that in the land of true liberty they do things differently.

Word comes in the English press of the Communist celebrations in London on May Day. Hyde Park was filled with Communists, 30 speeches were made simultaneously, and great resolutions passed. Then they went home. No one was injured and the police merely looked on.—Vancouver Province.

A FASCINATING MODEL—DOES FOR SHEER COTTONS AS WELL AS THOSE OF STURDIER CHARACTER

Nautical blue and white print in batiste, because it is so popular, is chosen by this smart junior.

And don't you think it is effective? The yoked bodice and inset at the front to simulate a bolero are of plain batiste. It tones with the blue shade.

Other schemes such as yellow and white in pique, striped cotton weave in red, white and blue with plain white and plain pink sportswear linen with white handkerchief linen dotted in pink used for contrast are adorable.

Style No. 433 is designed for sizes 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. Size 8 requires 1 1/2 yards of 35-inch material with 1/2 yard of 35-inch contrasting and 2 yards of binding.

Price of pattern 25 cents in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

Auroral Display

Possibility Being Studied By Royal Society Of Canada

The question of whether sounds sometimes accompany auroral displays in the sky came in for discussion before section three of the Royal Society of Canada at Ottawa.

Just because the currently held belief as to the cause and nature of aurora does not provide for any sound to be heard, Dr. J. S. Plaskett, director of the astrophysical observatory on Vancouver Island and the holder of the Flavelle medal of the Royal Society of Canada for 1932, thinks that the great body of evidence that sounds have been heard should not be discarded.

He read a paper before the section, prepared by Dr. C. S. Beals, of the observatory staff, in which it was stated that the only interpretation of the observations which seems to fit all the fact is that both the sounds and low level apparitions sometimes reported are real and that they constitute normal though perhaps unusual accompaniments of other auroral phenomena.

"If this is so," it is stated further, "there must be some definite physical process taking place close to the earth's surface which is able to produce the effects that have been observed. The aurora has long been considered to be electrical in origin and the hypothesis that the auroral sounds and low level displays are due to some sort of electrical discharge near the surface of the earth seems a very reasonable one."

Assist Poultrymen

Hon. Robert Weir, Minister Of Agriculture, Promises Continuation Of Government Aid

Continuation of the assistance given by the government to poultry breeders desirous of securing registered cockerels for their flocks, was announced by Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture. The assistance amounts to transportation charges and a sum of $1.25 per bird toward the purchase price providing the cockerels pass the inspection tests and are shipped in lots of ten or more.

The purchases must be made from bona fide breeders entered under the federal policies of registration or record of performance. There is no restriction to the sale price.

Wealth Hoarded In States

Money estimated to amount to $1,300,000,000 is being hoarded by Americans in the United States, President Hoover, in a recent appeal for the release of this money, stated that every dollar thus hoarded was equal to "the destruction of from five to ten dollars in credit."

Regret that a salaried commission was to be appointed to conduct Canada's proposed new radio broadcasting system was expressed by officials of the Canadian Radio League, which organization was largely instrumental in the presentation to the parliamentary committee of the basis for the radio policy adopted at the session just concluded. It had been felt by the league that the commission should be composed of voluntary workers, "thus ensuring greater freedom from political interference, and constituting a buffer between the government and the operating organization."

A statement was issued by Allan Plaunt, honorary secretary, following a meeting at Ottawa at which it was shown that the organization had been financed, since its inception 18 months ago, at a total cost of $5,000, more than half of which, Mr. Plaunt said, was contributed by members of the executive.

The league will remain in existence as a "watchdog and friendly critic" of the proposed "Canadian Radio Broadcasting Commission," it was stated, and will branch out with a view to securing more members and a wider organization.

Satisfaction was expressed at the successful conclusion of the campaign directed by the league and at the terms of the Radio bill adopted by parliament, except that it was felt, if salaries were to be paid the commissioners, they should be larger than those provided. The legislation authorized a salary of $10,000 for the chairman and $8,000 for the two commissioners.

Graham Spry, chairman of the league, said that the salary of the chairman did not equal that paid either responsible business positions or leading university presidents. The commission would handle as much as $4,000,000 a year, he said and would be controlling programmes that would be listened to by the whole of Canada for a number of hours a day. Such responsibility should be vested only in the most intelligent and competent hands, "but the commission, as proposed, cut off the possibility of voluntary services and does not pay enough to ensure that at least the chairman will be an experienced and responsible man," he said.

Native At Fort Chipewyan Makes High Jump Record

Canadian Olympic committee officials seeking point winners for the Los Angeles games might well turn to latent material among Indian tribes in the Northwest Territories if an athletic record in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police annual report is accurate.

According to Inspector H. Royal-Gagnon, a young Indian whom he does not name jumped six feet one inch at a field meet held at Fort Chipewyan. Knowing nothing of the high jumping art, the Indian, the inspector relates, "just jumps over."

HER FAT HAD TO GO

Activity Melted it

Exercise is the enemy of fat. If you are overburdened with superfluous flesh, call up reserves of energy to fight it. Do as this lady did:—

"During the past six months, I have made steady improvement whilst taking Kruschen Salts. I have reduced 28 lbs. in weight during that period, and have benefited greatly from greater agility and liveliness—all directly attributable to that famous preparation."—Mrs. W. P.

You can take off fat with Kruschen Salts if you will take one-half teaspoon in hot water every morning before breakfast, modify your diet and exercise regularly.

While you are losing fat you will be gaining in energy—in endurance—in ambition. Your skin will grow clearer, and your eyes will sparkle with the good health that Kruschen brings. The old arm chair won't hold you any more—you'll want to be up and doing—you'll enjoy work and active recreation and you'll sleep like a top. You'll lose fat, and probably live years longer.

Saskatchewan Government Provides For Temporary Curtailment Of Remedies In View Of Conditions

The following information is published by the authority of the Hon. W. C. Buckle, Minister of Agriculture of the Government of the Province of Saskatchewan.

Taxes: Title to land sold for taxes will not be issued until June 15th, 1932, unless the municipality or council has exempted the land from the provision of the Act passed for the protection of land owners. Under the new Act authorizing the postponement of issue of Certificate of Title to Land sold for Taxes, any owner of land lying within a municipality sold for taxes in 1929, or in any preceding year, in respect of which a certificate of title has not been issued, may make application to the council of the municipality within which the land lies for a certificate postponing the issue of certificate of title to the land until the thirtieth day of November, 1932. If the council fails or refuses to grant the application and to issue the certificate of postponement, the owner may apply to a judge of the district court for the required certificate, and the decision of the judge in the matter shall be final. If you are unable to take an appeal before a Judge of the District Court, you may ask the Debt Adjustment Commissioner for assistance.

If your land has been sold for taxes in the year 1929, or any preceding year, you are advised to consult the Secretary-Treasurer of your Rural Municipality, or Council, without delay, because after June 15th, if a certificate is not issued to you, title to your land may pass to the purchaser of the tax sale certificate.

The following real and personal property of an execution debtor and his family is free from seizure by virtue of all writs of execution, namely:

1. The necessary and ordinary clothing of himself and his family.

2. Furniture, household furnishings and dairy utensils, to the extent of five hundred dollars.

3. The necessary food for the family of the execution debtor during six months, which may include grain, flour, vegetables and meat either prepared for use or on foot.

4. Four oxen, horses or mules, or any four of them, six cows, six sheep, four pigs, and fifty domestic fowls besides the animals the execution debtor may have chosen to keep for food purposes, and food for the same for the months of November, December, January, February, March and April, or for such of these months or portions thereof as may follow the date of seizure provided such seizure be made between the first day of August and the thirtieth day of April next ensuing.

5. The harness necessary for four animals, one wagon or two carts, one mower or cradle and scythe, one breaking plough, one cross plough, one set of harrows, one horse rake, one sewing machine, one reaper or binder, one set of sleighs and one seed drill.

6. The books of a professional man.

7. The tools and necessary implements to the extent of two hundred dollars used by the execution debtor in the practice of his trade or profession.

8. Seed grain sufficient to sow all his land under cultivation not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres, at the rate of two bushels per acre, defendant to have choice of seed and fourteen bushels of potatoes for planting.

9. The homestead, provided the same be not more than one hundred and sixty acres; in case it be more the surplus may be sold subject to any lien or encumbrance thereon.

10. The house and buildings occupied by the execution debtor and also the lot or lots on which the same are situated according to the registered plan of the same, to the extent of three thousand dollars.

In the event of a chattel mortgage having been given covering horses, machinery, etc., the debtor is still protected under the Exemptions Act for the chattels mentioned above.

Should the subject matter of the judgment upon which an execution is issued, represent the amount due on machinery, horses, etc., then such articles are not exempt.

In view of prevailing conditions, the Government of the Province of Saskatchewan deemed it necessary to provide for the temporary curtailment of remedies for the enforcement of payment of certain debts and therefore enacted the Debt Adjustment Act, 1932. This Act extends protection to residents of the province who are actual residents of and personally bona fide engaged in, or the principal part of whose income is derived from farming operations in the province, or urban residents who own their residence, or who are purchasers of their residence under an agreement for sale, or who are retail merchants and includes the executors or administrators of deceased residents if the beneficiaries or any of them are resident of the province.

This Act is for the purpose of assisting debtors who are having difficulties with their creditors. The Commissioner, who administers the Act, endeavours to settle such difficulties but in the event of it being impossible to arrive at an amicable settlement, the Commissioner is authorized to issue a certificate which would stop any legal action brought by the creditor leading to the seizure of chattels under chattel mortgage, foreclosure of mortgages, and cancellation of agreements for sale, also repossession of articles bought under conditional sale agreements and lien notes. The Act, however, does not apply to actions which have been decided before the case is referred to the Debt Adjustment Commissioner. It does, however, apply to foreclosure actions, cancellation of agreements for sale, etc., where final order has not been issued by the courts.

In the event of a certificate being issued, the resident must comply with the Commissioner's directions as to the disposition of his property.

The Commissioner of the Debt Adjustment Act is authorized to act as Custodian and Trustee under the Bankruptcy Act and if any farmer is so badly involved that there are no prospects of his being able to pay his debts, then the Commissioner can arrange for bankruptcy proceedings. The farmer is required to make a deposit of an amount which will take care of the cash disbursements, but no fees are charged for services of the Department.

The rights of mortgagees under crop leases are also restricted this year in that no lease shall affect more than one-third of the crop unless the mortgagee has purchased the seed and pays the cost of threshing and a share of the cost of binder twine proportionate to the share of the crop to which he is entitled under the mortgage. A farmer who is a lessee, purchaser or mortgagor under any lease, agreement of sale or mortgage, may in the year 1932, out of the share of the crop belonging to the lessor, vendor or mortgagee, pay one year's taxes upon the land on which the crop is grown, and, in such case, upon production of the receipt of the municipality for such payment, the lessor, vendor or mortgagee shall be entitled only to his one-third share of the crop less the amount shown upon such receipt.

Seizures under any lien agreement, or conditional sale agreement under the Farm Implements Act, or the Conditional Sales Act, must be made by the sheriff of the judicial district within which the seizure is to be made, or under his direction. Generally, this applies to articles bought on the time payment plan such as farm machinery, automobiles, washing machines, cream separators, horses and cattle.

The vendor's right to recovery of unpaid purchase money on articles sold after April 13th, 1932, on credit, or partly for cash and partly on credit, and if the vendor has a lien thereon, is restricted to his lien upon the articles sold and his right of repossession of such articles unless in the case of sale of land with chattels upon an entire consideration. In other words, if you buy a plow on the time payment plan and cannot meet the payments, the vendor can repossess the plow, but cannot take action against you for the unpaid balance.

The Debt Adjustment Act does not afford protection to urban dwellers who live in rented houses or apartments.

Information regarding the rights and remedies of debtors will be cheerfully given by Commissioner, Debt Adjustment Act, Regina.

JUDAH THE TRUE BROTHER

Golden Text: "Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity."—Psalm 133. 1.

Lesson: Genesis 44.18 to 45.15.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 26.1-7.

Explanations and Comments

Judah's Plea For Benjamin, 44.18-34—Read chapters 42 and 43. Sincerity and depth of feeling mark Judah's plea throughout. He first of all recalls to Joseph's mind—the great man who is "even as Pharaoh,"—the way in which he had insisted upon bringing of Benjamin to him. He had asked the brothers if they had father or brother, and they told him that their father was living and with him was the only remaining child of his mother, "and his father loveth him." "Bring him down," the great lord had said, "that I may set mine eyes upon him."

And when they had said that the lad could not leave his father, that his father would die if he did, the great man had emphatically declared, "Except your youngest brother come down with you, ye shall see my face no more."

Very touching is Judah's picture then of his father's reluctance to part with Benjamin, a reluctance overcome at last by dire hunger. But his father had reminded them at parting of how he had lost Joseph; "and if ye take this one from me, and harm befall him," he cried, "ye will bring down my gray hairs with sorrow to Sheol."

"Now therefore, when I come to thy servant my father, and the lad is not with us; seeing that his life is bound up in the lad's life," thus Judah speaks, trying to picture what could not, must not be—"it will come to pass that he will die." He had become surety with his father for the lad, and he ends his pathetic plea by begging to be made himself a slave in the place of Benjamin. How noble Judah appears at this moment!

"Oh, how much of poetry and of pathos lie behind some of the roughest men, only waiting for some great sorrow to smite open the upper crust, and bore the artesian well!"—F. B. Meyer.

Joseph Reveals Himself To His Brothers, 45.1-15.—The stern ruler breaks down as Judah ends his intercession for Benjamin. He is satisfied with the result of his test. His brothers are not the men at whose hands he himself had suffered. The time was ripe for making known to them the fact that he, the great ruler in Egypt, was none other than Joseph, their brother. God, too, was satisfied. The brothers were ready to stand together, and it was time to bring them down into Egypt, there to lay the foundation of a national life. There follows a dramatic scene.

Joseph sends away his Egyptian attendants that he may be alone with his brothers. Bursting into tears, he exclaims, "I am Joseph, your brother, whom ye sold into Egypt." They are amazed and troubled, and he hastens to add: "Be not grieved, nor angry with yourselves, that ye sold me hither; for God did send me before you to preserve life. It was not you that sent me hither, but God."

MUTUAL GAINS EXPECTED FROM EMPIRE PARLEY

London, England.—Canada goes to the Imperial Economic Conference in Ottawa in July with the clear cut thought that there must be mutual gains and advantages to all component parts of "the greatest commonwealth of free peoples in the history of the world—the British Empire." Prime Minister R. B. Bennett declared here in addressing a banquet climaxing the ninth annual convention of the Western Ontario Conservative Association.

Speaking to 1,700 persons seated at dinner—the largest political banquet in the history of western Ontario—the Prime Minister dealt with matters of trade and commerce and with various aspects of the forthcoming Imperial Conference. "In July, next month," he said, "we gather together as partners to see how, as far as possible, we may keep our trade within this partnership. We comprise the greatest commonwealth of free peoples the world has ever known. We must trade to the advantage not of one but of all. There must be mutual gains and advantages. There must be mutual arrangements for the benefit of all parts of the empire. We need your help and assistance as the people of Canada. As a cross section of public opinion you are representative and we need behind us the collective weight of a solid public opinion."

Agreements must be reached at the Imperial Conference, declared the Canadian Prime Minister, that shall be to the perpetual mutual advantage of all parts of the empire.

Will Invest Millions In Gold Properties

Increase In Canada's Production Attracts British Mining Circles

Montreal, Que.—Nine million dollars of British, Dutch, and Swiss capital is on deposit in Geneva banks—at present, awaiting investment in northern Quebec gold properties, stated A. H. Carlisle, British financier, during an interview here.

Fully 40 per cent. of the amount would be used for the purchase of Canadian mining equipment, while the balance was scheduled for prospecting work in connection with the opening up of new districts, he said. Actual work would start within two months.

Mr. Carlisle, who is representing the continental backers of the undertaking, stated that the steady increase in gold production in the first quarter of 1932 in both Quebec and Ontario had attracted much attention in British mining circles where the need of fostering the production of gold throughout the empire was considered of paramount importance.

Failed To Make Will

London Paper Says Earl Of Egmout Died Intestate

London, England.—The Daily Mail said the Earl of Egmout, former Priddis, Alberta, rancher, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident outside Southampton on May 6, died intestate.

The newspaper said application for grant of administration of his estate in the names of George Perceval, his brother, who arrived here a few days ago, and H. J. Washbrough, partner of his solicitors, would be made shortly.

Sight Sea Monster

Strange Marine Creature Causes Thrill In Pacific Coastal Waters

A 40-foot sea monster, colored blue and white, with bulbous body and great head, has been sighted twice within the past week in the waters between Vancouver Island and the mainland of British Columbia, about 100 miles north of Vancouver.

It was observed on both occasions from the Canadian Pacific steamer "Princess Adelaide," the second time it provided a thrilling close-up by swimming right under the stern of the vessel.

Won the Derby

Motion Picture Comedian, Well-Known To Canadians, Owner Of Speedy Colt

Epsom Downs, Eng.—Tom Walls, motion picture comedian, director and sportsman, whose colt, April the Fifth, won the Derby, is well known to Canadian motion picture audiences.

He has produced a series of comedy successes at the Aldwych Theatre in London, teamed with Ralph Lynn, known as the "comedian with the monocle." Their joint appearances in the motion pictures "Plunder," "One Embarrassing Night" and "Tons of Money," have been well received in Canada and the United States.

Walls has been an active figure in development of the British film industry. He personally directed the film version of Frederick Lonsdale's "On Approval" in which he also played a leading role.

Scientists To Visit West

Going To Post At Fort Rae To Secure Data

Montreal, Que.—En route to Fort Rae in the Northwest Territories to make scientific observations, four young Englishmen left Montreal for Edmonton. In common with scientists the world over, the observations will be made as part of the 1932-33 polar year program.

Those leaving for Western Canada were: W. A. Gristed, J. L. Kennedy, W. R. Morgans and P. A. Sheppard of the meteorological office, London.

The post at Fort Rae will be maintained from August 1, 1932, until August 31, 1933.

Award For Military Units

Four Regiments Have Been Given Battle Honor

Ottawa, Ont.—Four cavalry and two infantry regiments of the non-permanent active militia have been awarded the battle honor "North West Canada, 1885," according to announcement from the department of national defence here.

These regiments now perpetuate units of the old militia who took part in the Riel Rebellion. They are the 12th Manitoba Dragoons, the 16th Canadian Light Horse, the South Alberta Horse, the Manitoba Horse, the Winnipeg Light Infantry, and the Prince Albert Volunteers.

Duty On Vegetables

Beets, Cauliflowers and Peas Come Under New Ruling

Ottawa, Ont.—The Department of Natural Revenue announced in a recent bulletin that the value for duty on beets shall be the true invoice value in Canadian funds plus two cents a pound. For cauliflower, the value for duty shall be the true invoice plus four cents a pound, and for green peas, the invoice value plus two and a half cents. These are now in effect, and in the case of beets, continues until February 15, 1933, for cauliflower and peas, the regulation terminates on November 30 next.

Seeking Agreement

London, Eng.—An important delegation representing the Lancashire cotton industry sailed for Canada on the "Empress of Australia," with the hope of making some agreements with Canadian textile interests in order they may be able to return to England and draw up a report for the British Government, for consideration in connection with the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa.

Alberta Pioneer Dead

Pincher Creek, Alberta.—John Plummer Marcellus, member of the first Alberta legislature in 1905 and pioneer of the foothills, is dead. He was 90 years old and was predeceased by his wife a month ago. Mr. Marcellus was born in Morrisburg, Dundas County, Ontario, and came to western Canada in 1889.

Lead Pencil Duty

Ottawa, Ont.—A value for duty purposes of 35 cents a gross on wood lead pencils was imposed by the Minister of National Revenue, when entered under the general or intermediate tariff rates. On cooperative keg stock special values were set on keg staves, hoops and headings.

NEW JAP PREMIER

Chosen as non-party Premier of Japan to succeed Premier Tsuyoshi Inukai, recently assassinated, Admiral Makoto Sa'to (above), is a former Governor of Korea, and was a delegate to the Geneva naval conference in 1927. His appointment by the Emperor is said to have met with the approval of all parties.

Economic Conference

Powers May Meet Around a Council Table In London

Washington.—The United States has responded favorably to a British suggestion that the world powers meet around a council table in London, England, to seek ways of alleviating economic distress.

Ambassador Andrew W. Mellon in London, was instructed to inform Great Britain that the United States thought such a conference "might be of real value in the present depression." He will make it plain, however, that his country will not discuss war debts and reparations.

Britain also is suggesting the conference to France, Italy and the other powers.

The British move for an economic conference follows by almost a year President Hoover's proposal for a moratorium on inter-governmental debts. Once again the world's economic plight has called forth extraordinary measures to meet it.

Object To Privy Council

Free State Republicans Resent Appeals To Highest Tribunal In Empire

Dublin, Ireland.—The Republican Government of the Irish Free State is drafting a bill to wipe out appeals to the judicial committee of the Privy Council, the highest tribunal in the empire.

The government, it is understood, hopes to submit the bill to the Dail Eireann before the summer adjournment on July 8. It is an adjunct to the proposals to withhold payment of the land annuities to Great Britain, and to abolish the parliamentary oath of allegiance to the crown.

The right of appeal to the Privy Council is already in effect virtually inoperative in the Free State.

Balloonists Make A Record Flight

U.S. Army Balloon No. 2 Lands Near Hatton, Saskatchewan

Hatton, Sask.—Dogged by adverse weather conditions throughout the long flight, United States army balloon No. 2, under command of Lieutenant Wilfred J. Paul, landed in a driving rain storm 14 miles north of here, winning the National Balloon race from Omaha, Nebraska, and probably setting a new world's duration record for balloons of its capacity.

Lieut. Paul and his co-pilot, Lieut. J. H. Bishop, of Scott Field, Ill., had only a vague idea of their whereabouts when they came to earth. In a make-shift shelter the two weary aeronauts curled up and slept until daybreak, when they set about dismantling the big ship which had not been damaged by the severe electrical storm.

On arrival here, Lieut. Paul told of his experiences on the trip. "We took off from Omaha at 7:30 p.m. May 30," he said, "sailing due north. Several severe lightning storms were narrowly averted during the first night, to avoid which it was necessary to expend a great deal of our ballast supply."

"The next morning found us still sailing in the storm area and above the clouds at an altitude of 12,000 feet. Rain was with us constantly and both Bishop and myself were soaking wet throughout the flight."

Oppose Tank Warfare

Outlawry Of Heavy Tanks Urged At Disarmament Conference

Geneva, Switzerland.—The outlawry of heavy tanks as offensive weapons of war, was urged before the land commission of the disarmament conference Wednesday, June 1, by Lord Stanhope, of Great Britain. He declared that Britain would be prepared to scrap all tanks of 25 tons or more, but favored the retention of lighter tanks for ordinary police work.

Hugh R. Wilson, United States delegate, criticized the commission for its inability to arrive at definitions that would draw a line between tanks and armored cars. Apparently political questions, he said, were dictating the attitude of the experts on this question.

Unanimous agreement was reached by the naval commission to extend the age of battleships from 20 to 26 years. The 26-year-age limit for aircraft carriers, was maintained, however, as well as existing age limits on other categories.

Asks Protection For Mines

Fernie, B.C.—An appeal by Lorne A. Campbell, of Rossland, to the Associated Boards of Trade of eastern British Columbia to "do something to help the coal towns of this section," featured the opening session of the 32nd annual convention. If the unfair competition of U.S. fuel oil for railway use was not counteracted, Mr. Campbell declared, the mines must soon close.

OATH ABOLITION MIGHT ISOLATE IRISH FREE STATE

Dublin, Ireland.—If the Republican Government's bill to abolish the parliamentary oath of allegiance to the king is passed, the Free State runs the risk of becoming a small, isolated state, Senator Bagwell, Independent and opponent of the government, told the senate during debate.

The Free State would be thrown back on her own resources, would be without credit in the civilized world and bereft of all the advantages of the British connection, Senator Bagwell warned.

Contrary to expectations the House was not filled when debate was resumed. There was no indication of any easing of the differences between government and opposition members over the bill and its consequences, one of which will be the elimination of further negotiations with Great Britain.

Senator Wilson, former representative and government supporter, argued that even if the oath were removed the king would remain in the constitution as a symbol of the commonwealth.

"I am not frightened by the threat of dire consequences if we pass the bill," declared Senator Johnson, leader of the Labor party. He asserted that far from violating the provisions of the Anglo-Irish treaty, the oath bill actually implemented that agreement.

During debate in the dail on financial resolution, former finance minister Ernest Blythe said many people who were living on incomes derived outside the Free State had left the country and many more intended leaving.

Wednesday night, June 1, it was learned the Dublin tobacco manufacturers, Gallagher, Limited, had given 200 employees a week's notice and had announced the firm would close down. The announcement said it would not carry on in the face of differential duty rates now included in the budget.

New Trade Agreement

United States and France Sign Pact Which Will Stimulate Business

Paris, France.—The United States and France have concluded a trade agreement which cleared the way for increased American imports and wiped out uncertainties against which United States business men have been forced to contend under the French quota system.

The accord grants the United States most favored nation treatment on imports now limited by quotas.

United States trade is said to have suffered about $2,500,000 as a result of the quotas. It was estimated that the agreement would recoup $500,000 of this loss.

Being Held At Border

Holiday Makers Detained At Victoria By United States Authorities

Victoria, B.C.—A number of holiday-makers from the United States who came to Victoria on Memorial Day excursions were held by United States Immigration Authorities here, waiting investigation of their right to return to the United States. Many former Britishers and Canadians took advantage of the holiday to return to Victoria, where they formerly resided. Some of them had entered the United States when regulations were not so strict, and because of long residence there, believed they had a right to remain.

Newspaper Advertising

Toronto, Ont.—One New York department store sold more than $96,000,000 worth of merchandise last year through the medium of newspaper advertising, which cost less than $2,000,000, C. H. Henry, local advertising man, told the Advertising and Sales' Club meeting here.

Death Penalty For Kidnapping

Washington.—The Cochran bill to make inter-state kidnapping a federal crime punishable by death was approved by the United States House of Representatives judiciary committee.

Here's one way of hastening the day of reckoning. These daredevil motorcycle riders of the British Army signal corps are demonstrating a simple method of changing wheels of the sidcar while travelling at fifty miles an hour. The exhibition was one of the thrills staged by the motorbike men at a tournament at Tidworth, England.

THE HOUSE OF DREAMS-COME-TRUE

— BY —

MARGARET PEDLER

Author of
"The Splendid Folly," "The Hermit
Of Far Land,"
Hodder & Stoughton, Ltd., London.

Burke fitted the key into the lock of the door and turned it sulkily.

"You prim little thing! I was only teasing you," he said. "Do you mean you're really as frightened as all that of—what people may say? I thought you were above minding gossip of ill-natured scandalmongers."

Jean grasped eagerly at the excuse. It would serve to hide the real motive of her impulsive action.

"No woman can afford to ignore scandal," she answered quickly. "After all, a woman's happiness depends mostly on her reputation."

Burke's eyes narrowed suddenly. He looked at her speculatively, as though her words had suggested a new train of thought, but he made no comment. Somewhat abstractedly he opened the door and allowed her to pass out and down the stairs. Outside the door of the inn they found the mare and dog-cart in charge of an ostler.

"The mare's foot's rather badly torn, sir," volunteered the man, "but the blacksmith thinks she'll travel all right. Far to go, sir?"

"Nine or ten miles," responded Burke laconically.

He was curiously silent on the way home. It was as though the chain of reasoning started by Jean's comment on the relation scandal bears to a woman's happiness still absorbed him. His brows were knit together morosely.

Jean supposed he was probably reproaching himself for his conduct that afternoon. After all, she reflected, he was normally a man of decent instincts, and though the flood-tide of his passion had swept him into taking advantage of the circumstances which had flung them together in the solitude of the little inn, he would be the first to agree, when in a less lawless frame of mind, that his conduct had been unpardonable. Although, even from that, one could not premise that he would not be equally culpable another time!

Blaise had proved painfully correct in his estimate of the dangers attaching to unexploded bombs. Jean admitted it to herself ruefully. And she was honest enough also to admit that, with his warning ringing in her ears and with the memory of what had happened in the rose-garden to illumine it, she herself was not altogether clear of blame for the incidents of the afternoon.

She had played with Burke, even encouraged him to a certain extent, allowing him to be in her company far more frequently than was altogether wise, considering the circumstance of his hot-headed love for her.

It was somewhat of a mental start of surprise that she found herself seeking for excuses for his behaviour—actually trying to supply adequate reasons why she should overlook it!

His brooding, sulky silence as he drove along, mile after mile, was not without its appeal to the inherent femininity of her. He did not try to excuse or palliate his conduct, made no attempt to sue for forgiveness. He loved her and he had let her see it; manlike, he had taken what the opportunity offered. And she didn't suppose he regretted it.

The faintest smile twitched the corners of her lips. Burke was not the type of man to regret an unlawful kiss or two!

She was conscious that—as usual, where he was concerned—her virtuous indignation was oozing away in the most discreditable and hopeless fashion. There was an audacious charm about the man, an attractiveness that would not be denied in the hot-headed way he went, all out, for what he wanted.

Other women besides Jean had found it equally difficult to resist. His sheer virility, with its splendid disregard for other people's claims and its conscienceless belief that the battle should assuredly be to the strong, earned him forgiveness where, for misdeeds not half so flagrant, a less imperious sinner would have been promptly shown the door.

But no woman—not even the women to whom he had made love without excuse of loving—had ever shown Burke the door or given him the kind of treatment which he had thoroughly well merited twenty times over. And Jean was no exception to the rule.

At least he had some genuine claim on her forgiveness—the claim of a love which had swept through his very being like a flame, the fierce passion of a man to whom love means adoration, worship—above all, possession.

And what woman can ever long remain angry with a man who loves her—and whose very offence is the outcome of the overmastering quality of that love? Very few, and certainly none who was so very much a woman, so essentially feminine as Jean.

It was in a very small voice, which she endeavoured to make airily detached, that she at last broke the silence which had reigned for the last six miles or so.

"I suppose I shall have to forgive you—more or less. One can't exactly quarrel with one's next door neighbour."

Burke smiled grimly.

"Can't one?"

"Well, there's Judith to be considered."

A rather curious expression came into his eyes.

"Yes," he agreed. "There's Judith to be considered." There was a hint of irony in the dry tones.

"It would complicate matters if I were not on speaking terms with her brother," pursued Jean.

She waited for his answer, but none came. The threatened possibility contained in her speech seemed to have fallen on deaf ears, and the silence seemed likely to continue indefinitely. Jean prompted him gently.

"You might, at least, say you are sorry for—"

"For kissing you?"—swiftly.

"Yes"—flushing a little.

"But I'm not. Kissing you"—with deliberation—"is one of the things I shall never regret. When I come to make my peace with Heaven and repent in sackcloth and ashes for my sins of omission and commission, I shan't include this afternoon in the list, I assure you. It was worth it—if I pay for it afterwards in hell."

He was silent a moment. Then:

"But I'll promise you one thing. I'll never kiss you again till you give me your lips yourself."

Jean smiled at the characteristic speech. She supposed this was as near an apology as Burke would ever get.

"That's all right, then," she replied composedly. "Because I shall never do that."

He flicked the chestnut lightly with the whip.

"I think you will," he said. "I think"—he looked at her somewhat enigmatically—"that you will give me everything I want—some day."

CHAPTER XXIII.

On the Side Of the Angels

Throughout the day following that of the expedition to Dartmoor, Nick seemed determined to keep out of Jean's way. It was as though he feared she might force some confidence from him that he was loth to give, and, in consequence, deliberately avoided being alone with her.

On the second day, however, as luck would have it, she encountered him in the corridor just outside her own sitting-room. He was striding blindly along, obviously not heeding where he was going, and had almost collided with her before he realized that she was there.

He jerked himself backwards. "I beg your pardon," he muttered, still without looking at her, and made as though to pass on.

Jean checked him with a hand on his sleeve. She had not watched the dogged sullenness of his face throughout yesterday to no purpose, and now, as her swift gaze searched it anew, she was convinced that something fresh had occurred to stir him. It was impossible for Jean to see a friend in trouble without wanting to "stand by."

"Nick, old thing, what's wrong?" she asked.

He stared at her unseeing.

"Wrong?" he muttered. "Wrong?"

"Yes, Come in here and let's talk it out—whatever it is." With gentle insistence she drew him into her sitting-room. "Now," she said, when she had established him in an easy-chair by the open window and herself in another, "what's gone wrong? Are you still boiling over about that trick Sir Adrian played on Claire the day of the picnic?"

She spoke lightly—more lightly than the occasion warranted—of set purpose, hoping to reduce the tension under which Nick was obviously labouring. His face hurt her. The familiar lazy insouciance which was half its charm was blotted out of it by some heavy cloud tragic significance. He looked as though he had not slept for days, and his eyes, the gaiety burnt out of them by pain, seemed sunken in his head.

He stared at her blankly for a moment. Then he seemed to awaken to the meaning of her question.

A Remedy For Earache.—To have the earache is to endure torture. The ear is a delicate organ and few care to deal with it, considering it work for a doctor. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil offers a simple remedy. A few drops upon a piece of lint or medicated cotton and placed in the ear will do much in relieving pain.

Oldest Graduate

Dr. Lovett Oldest Living Medical Graduate Of McGill University

Dr. William Lovett, who celebrated his 90th birthday at Paris, Ont., recently, is the oldest living medical graduate of McGill University, Montreal.

He graduated in 1870 and received the second diploma issued by the Ontario Medical Council. The late Dr. J. Dunsmore of Mitchell received diploma number one. Dr. Lovett's entire medical practice was carried on in the town of Ayr, Ont., from 1870 to 1907, when he retired on account of illness.

Little Helps For This Week

"Your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things." —Matthew vi. 32.

The dear God hears and pities all; He knoweth all our wants; And what we blindly ask of Him, His love withholdeth or grants.

And so I sometimes think our prayers Might well be merged in one; And nest and perche, and hearth and church

Repeat, "Thy will be done!" —John Greenleaf Whittier.

What Christ's prayer was, all true prayer must be; you must pray with the great prayer in sight. You must feel the mountains above you while you work upon your little garden. Little by little your special wishes and the eternal will of God will grow in harmony with one another; all conflict will die away, and the great spiritual landscape from horizon to horizon will be but one.—Lucy Larcom.

Douglas' Egyptian Liniment is especially recommended for spider, or infection of cow's teat. Invaluable also in cases of spavins, curbs and splints.

A Good Definition

Discussing Irish politics with friends after the close of the music festival, H. Plunkett Greene, adjudicator par excellence, and himself a son of Erin, defined Eamon de Valera, government leader in the Free State, as "a Spanish onion in an Irish stew."

The greatest fault is to be conscious of none.

RAILWAY RECEIPT POOLING

Commenting on the announcement that the London Midland and Scottish and London and Northeastern Railway Companies in Britain had completed an arrangement for the pooling of receipts "wherever there is competitive contact between them" Sir Henry Thornton, President of the C.N.R. way stated "The proposed arrangement is highly intelligent and should result in material economy. With but negligible sacrifice, if any, it is a constructive step which may well be imitated where conditions permit." According to Sir Henry Thornton, there have been some general discussions along such lines, and consideration is still being given to the subject, but no conclusion has yet been reached. So far as the C.N.R. is concerned, the principle is one the President has long advocated and one which the C.N.R. would be prepared to accept immediately.

DR. MANION SAYS WEST OPTIMISTIC

Banff, June 6—"The all-round spirit of optimism in the West, coupled with the excellent crop prospects, is most encouraging," said Hon. R.J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, who with Mrs. Manion and their son, Robert, was a week end guest at Banff, en route to the Pacific coast.

"All along the line I found people who were hopeful and ready to say so. One man summed up the situation very neatly. He said: 'This is a next year country, and this is next year.' There is undoubtedly a better spirit in the West than in the East, and this is readily understandable with the country's prospects as they are. A good crop coupled with a return of good prices might easily mean a substantial recovery of Canada's purchasing power," Mr. Manion said.

Questioned as to the forthcoming Imperial Conference, Dr. Manion said: "We have great hopes and in view of the possibilities of that most important gathering of the great British family, one may well say that such hopes are justified. There is plenty of room for the improvement of trade relations. To cite only one example, last year Canada imported $200,000,000 worth of iron and steel goods and only ten per cent of that from Great Britain. On the other hand, Britain bought $150,000,000 worth of bacon and only one-half of one per cent was Canadian. To follow up this thought it must be recognized that Canada produces just as good bacon as is to be found anywhere in the world."

DON'T ATTEMPT TO BE PRINTERS

Don't attempt to be printers. It does not pay you in the end. Instead, have your local poster and other printing done at The Chronicle Office. We will quote you a reasonable price on all work. Not only this—if you are putting on an entertainment, etc. and have your printing done here, you get access to our free reader space in this newspaper, which is worth more to you than the paltry sum you spend for other forms of advertising.

Don't pass up your local printing establishment when you have printing to do. Your patronage only will keep a newspaper in Carbon.
